

Andrew Satterfield

Co-Founder | Program Director | Lead Instructor - Grades 4-6

Monarch | Anchorage, Alaska

Educator and business co-owner with experience in family home education and mixed-grade instruction. Co-founded Monarch with Gabrielle Satterfield in 2023. Combines foundational practice, discussion, and hands-on learning to build academic skills, responsibility, and independent work.

Professional experience

Monarch

2023-present

- Plan and facilitate student learning in mathematics, language arts, history, and science for grades 4-6.
- Develop and adapt worksheets, study guides, journal assignments, and brief assessments.
- Use student progress records and classroom observations to adjust practice and assignments.
- Connect instruction with discussion and hands-on activities, including DNA extraction.
- Build routines for independent work and shared responsibility; communicate student progress to families.
- Administer program invoicing, parent authorization paperwork, and correspondence-school vendor documentation.

Alaska's Quality Choice, Inc.

2009-present

Co-Owner

- Manage contracts, scheduling, staffing, payroll, client communication, and service delivery.

Home education experience

Experience home-educating his children alongside Gabrielle, including participation in small-group classes and homeschool co-ops before Monarch's founding.

Curriculum experience

Institute for Excellence in Writing (IEW); Fix It! Grammar; Structure & Style, The Story of the World, Volumes 1-4; Elemental Sciences Physics, Earth Sciences, and Biology

Correspondence-school service

Experience serving families participating in Family Partnership Charter School, IDEA Homeschool, Frontier Charter School, Raven Homeschool.